A FORCED MARRIAGE.

A Doctor Compelled to Wed a Young Lady at the Muzzle of Shotguns and Pistols.

(Marshall Herald.)

Woodlawn, August 14.—There was quite a remarkable occurrence in the shape of a marriage last evening at the residence of the late Bailey McCoy, which is very unpleasant to report private or family affairs; but as this transaction has gone forth to the world, and is liable to be misstated, I deem it an act of justice to all concerned that the public should have the truth of the matter at once. Dr. F. F. Roberts, who has been practicing here for over a year, and an old acquaintance of Mr. Maynor and his family, and with whom he has been boarding for the past several months was by threats and by force of arms compelled to marry Miss Nettie, the oldest (she being something over 21 years old) daughter of Mr. G. W. Maynor. It seems that it was a pre-arranged affair upon the part of Mr. Maynor's brother, Joe, of Dallas, said to be a drummer for some music store or firm, and a Mr. Kelly and a Mr. Thompson, one from Greenville and the other from Leesburg, the two latter having married pieces of Mr. G. W. Maynor arrived on No. 301 to-day, to whose house they repaired, and to whom they disclosed the object of their visit, who seems to have been ignorant of what was up or what it seems that Miss Nettie had told to her aunt or some other relative during her recent visit to them, whereupon they proceeded to arrest the doctor and him closely guard him till they procured the license and some one to officiate, having first called upon Rev. Mr. James Irving, and he not being an ordained minister, they had to call on our efficient justice, Mr. C. R. Blalock, who is ever ready under all circumstances to respond when duty calls; and I might say that he is rather fond of marrying folks, but he says now that he don't want any more such weddings in his, an account of which I will give you in his own language. He says: "Mr. G. W. Maynor called on me about 6 o'clock p. m., August 13, and asked me to perform a marriage ceremony. I asked him who and where it was. He said that Dr. Roberts had seduced his daughter Nettie, and that he had been to town and procured license, and was going to make him marry her. I said I do not like to go; and he said you must go. I finally told him that I would. When I got there I found one Joe Maynor a brother of G. W. Maynor, one Kelley, and one Thompson, all armed, with Dr. Roberts under arrest. I found Dr. Roberts in one corner of the room in shirt sleeves, Miss Maynor by his side; Joe Maynor, with pistol in hand, together with Kelley and Thompson and G. W. Maynor, with shot guns standing at the door. Joe Maynor said to me as I walked in, 'you marry them, it makes no difference what he shall say.' With a short ceremony, all was soon over; and as I was detained a little upon my return, having to walk when I got home I found Dr. Roberts at the table eating, as he said, his dinner and supper both. It might be added that during the time that Dr. Roberts was held in duress, he had several calls from patients who required his attention, and as soon as the forced ceremony was over, he left and has been quietly attending to his business, and has not been back to Maynor's house nor does he ever propose to go back. Dr. Roberts is about twenty-five years of age, is a nephew of ex-governor Roberts, and is respected as a lighted and honorable gentleman.

when he left the settlement a few days ago a party of 150 men were camped on the south bank of the Cimarron river, where they arrived last Saturday. The party had much hard work to ford the stream, which was greatly swollen by recent rains. Religious services were held on Sunday morning, and shortly after the close of services a lieutenant named Taylor, commanding some negro cavalrymen and Indian scouts, rushed down upon the party and seized their guns and tore the American flag from the tent. No resistance was made by the party, but there was afterwards talk of having the lieutenant arrested. The settlers were quietly holding possession, and seemed determined to use all possible means to hold homes on the public lands. Reinforcements were daily joining the settlers, and Captain Payne was at Arkansas City awaiting the result of his injunction suit. Colonel Edwards, of Chicago, was arrested by Lieutenant Taylor for making a speech condemning the seizure of the guns and the removal of the flag from the tent, and he is yet in jail. Amid all this confusion a Rev. Mr. Small was holding a religious revival.

WABASH, THE RACING CALF.

How He Attained and Beat a Trotting Horse With a Record.

(Philadelphia Times.)

Wabash, the two-year-old calf, that is credited with a mile racing record of 2:20, was brought to Philadelphia on Monday by his owner, Colonel Charles J. Burns of Evansville, Ind. Wabash has won seven races off the reel this summer, and was only beaten once. On that occasion he fell down. At Bedford park, on Wednesday last, he easily beat J. C. Mason's blk. g., The Major, a mile in 2:30. After the race Colonel Burns declined to accept an offer of $1,500 for his fleet-footed bovine. The calf is nearly thirteen and a half hands high, his legs are like those of a giraffe, and his horns are tipped with nickel-plated knobs. Colonel Burns bought the calf when a yearling from an Indiana farmer, who was driving the split-hoof to a sulkey and beating all ordinary roadsters with ease. The calf is of plean blood and was bred, raised and trained by the farmer. Colonel Burns intends exhibiting the speedy beast on all the trotting tracks of the country. Hitched to a light wagon Wabash trotted to Belmont park yesterday afternoon, and was sent around the track several times at a three-minute gait. The calf's wind and limbs are perfectly sound, and his owner says he has driven him forty miles a day without making him turn a hair. Although Wabash trots fast and steady in harness, he is much speedier when running under saddle. To show the calf's speed he was saddled and mounted by a 115 pound jockey yesterday, and Mr. Horton's b. m. Clorinda, with a record of 2:24, was started against him. Clorinda went away in the lead, when the word "go" was given, but Reilly, the jockey on the calf, quickly clapped spurs into his sides, and with a bellow that was heard a mile off Wabash hoisted his tail like a jackstaff and set sail after the trotter. The crowd of horsemen present at once saw that Wabash had a mixed but fast gait that is peculiar to himself. When on the back stretch his legs seemed to sprang out on all sides at once, and he bowed his back like a bucking broncho and blew a cloud of steam out of his nostrils. Colonel Burns proudly waved his hand toward him, and said to the crowd on the quarter stretch: "Now, you all watch that critter hump himself." If "humping" meant bellowing until the astounded Clorinda bolted across the track and stood trembling against the outside rails, Wabash certainly did what the colonel expected. Wabash came along like a locomotive, passed the bewildered mare and was loping into the home stretch before timorous Clorinda's driver could induce her to trot. Wabash won by an eighth of a mile and was cheered by every spectator except Mr. Horton, who rhythmically said to the driver: "Well, don't let beat." The calf will race at Point Breeze or Suffolk park on Saturday.
